

This event is suitable for teachers and English leaders in primary settings.

Back by popular demand, and following exceptional feedback, Little Sutton English Hub are delighted to be able to re-run the following session led by English expert Ruth Baker-Leask.

Free of charge

An experienced consultant, leading successful English CPD for 20 years, and former primary headteacher, Ruth provides support to schools, academy trusts and other organisations within the education sector. She is the chair of the National Association of Advisers in English (NAAE) and as such works regularly with the country's leading researchers and experts in the field of Primary English. She is an associate teacher for the Centre for Literacy in Primary Education (CLPE) and an associate consultant with the National Literacy Trust. Ruth is a member of the United Kingdom Literacy Association Awards and Members Panel and Writing for Pleasure Steering Group

Reading Comprehension Through Poetry

29 September 2022

This is a full day event (9:15-3:15) and will take place at Little Sutton Primary School.

During the day you will explore:

- The range of contemporary and classic children's poets and their works
- The place of poetry in the English National Curriculum
- Reading poetry for pleasure
- Analysing poetry
- Strengthening comprehension through poetry
- A range of strategies and teaching approaches for teaching poetry

To book, visit our website: www.lsenglishhub.org.uk

Or click here!